INDUSTRIOUS ALDERMEN ACCOMPLISH MUCH WORK

Extra Session Last Night at Which Slate Was Cleared of Routine Business.—Council Tilts with Board of Trade

There was a lengthy meeting of the city council last night, starting early and finishing late, at which the municipal slate was more nearly cleared up than at any time for many weeks past.

Aside from a brief discussion of the relative positions which would be occupied by the city and the board of trade before the railway commission, the evening was spent on routine work. Reports of commissioners which had been piling up for over a month, reports of committee engineers reports and other documents and communications, now almost legendary with antiquity were dug out of the openwork basket at the secretary's left hand and put through their prescribed course.

The first matter coming to the attention of the council was a case of destruction which Rev. H. A. Gray was present to mention. A man in poor circumstances had died at the hospital, of typhoid fever, his wife and child now both had typhoid fever and as they had not the wherewithal to take care of themselves it was a case in which the city was called on to take action. The matter was placed in the hands of the sanitary and relief committee.

A petition to build a balcony on the front of a building on Second street was turned down and a move made to include in the city by-laws a provision requiring that all balconies overhanging the street be removed. At a later hour Alderman Latta gave notice that he would move an amendment at next meeting providing for balconies having not more than a three-foot projection. The matter will come up at the next meeting.

The commissioners presented a lengthy report on the question of a garbage destructor. Tenders from a dozen or more firms, each representing a different type of incinerator, were produced and from among the many the commissioners picked out a plant made by Horsfall & Co., of Leeds, England, having a capacity of 15 tons of garbage per day which would cost freight paid and set up $14,735.

The final selection was held over pending a report from the city engineer. Mr. Degendorfer appeared to ask for the sanctioning of the plans of a warehouse which he proposed to build at the corner of Namayo and Isabella, which the building inspector refused to pass because there was a goods slide in the sidewalk. The council passed the plan, giving Mr. Degendorfer the privilege to put his goods slide in the sidewalk.

A petition to grade and gravel Seventh street was granted on a report of the commissioners that the work could be done at $1,800.

The inspector of the work on the hospital seemed to be in doubt and a motion was passed making provision for the inspection by the architect.

A motion was passed recommending the payment to Donald Ross of $100 as reimbursement for any inconvenience which he might have suffered through a misapprehension of the situation regarding re-occupying the site of his hotel addition on First street.

The engineer reported that it was highly desirable that Namayo avenue in the Norwood addition, which is 116 feet wide from Pine street north, and only 66 feet wide from Pine St. to Rat Creek, a distance of 660 feet, should be widened for the latter distance. The report of the city engineer was adopted and the commissioners authorized to purchase the 50 feet necessary to widen the street.

The report of the committee which was appointed to prepare the case which the city will have to present to the railway commission reported. They recommended that the city ask the railway commission to use its good offices to assist the city in securing a union depot; The solution of the west end entrance was contained in a resolution which recommended that at 11 the C.P.R. come in by the high level bridge and ninth avenue that provision be made by the railway commission providing that the railway would cross Saskatchewan avenue on an overhead trestle, cross McKay, Victoria and Jasper in a subway and that overhead bridges be built for the purposes of carrying Athabasca and Peace avenues over the switchyards. Other provisions were tacked on, to the effect that the railway should be prevented from ringing bells, blowing whistles, or making any avoidable or unnecessary noise. It was also recommended that the council secure the assistance of the railway commission toward getting a traffic bridge attachment to the Clover Bar crossing.

Alderman Manson chairman of the committee moved the adoption of the report and that a committee consisting of Aldermen Bellamy, Griesbach, Picard, Mayor May and the city solicitor be appointed to present the city's case to the railway commission. At the suggestion of Mayor May, Ald. Manson's name was added to the committee and the motion passed. The mayor stated that he had been present at the board of trade meeting during the afternoon at which a number of resolutions had been passed affecting the railway situation, and it was important that the council should know whether the city was to present these questions to the railway commission or was the board of trade.

Ald. Griesbach said that he was present at the meeting of the board of trade in the afternoon, and that he resented the action of the board undertaking to step in and take the representation of the city's interests out of the council's hands; for the board of trade to step in and presume that the aldermen have not the intelligence to deal with it is unequalled for. The council, he thought, would pursue the even tenor of its way and leave the board of trade to take whatever action they choose. He took the liberty of pointing out to the board of trade that the council could not alter any obligations which it had entered into, but that there was nothing to prevent any individual citizen or body of citizens from going before the commission to endeavor to secure a mitigation of some of the severer clauses of any agreement. The council heard entered into an agreement with the C. P. R., which agreement was the least agreement they could get. Any citizen might protest before the commission against any clause of that agreement but the council as a body was in duty bound to accept the terms of the agreement which they had entered into.

Ald. Latta suggested that the G. T. P. might build its spur south of its main line and offer the C.N.R. the right to use them and that the C. N. R. might refuse to do so. He asked what position would the city be in then.

Ald. Manson intimated that this was one of the points which the board of trade would lay before the commission as the board was in a position to

JIMMY GLEASON SQUANDERS GAME

Made Three Costly Errors in Yesterday Afternoon's Scare

The worthy captain of the Edmonton bunch, to whom good money is paid on the understanding that he can captain a ball team and play the game squandered Edmonton's chances yesterday in a manner that would have earned him barrels of apoplexy in the basement clubhouse of any A. F. league in America. In fact as pointed out by Gleason's playing in the third that the Edmonton public, celebrated the world over, for their indulgence toward a passing fault by one of the champions, could not restrain a groan of resentment as the little captain booted the grounders and tossed their chances into the air.

Yeazell, on the slab, pitched a beautiful game, and except for one performance in holding pulled off as fine a performance as has been seen here this season. He had the heavy hitters of the Maroons groggy and grabbing for the ropes all through the piece and with anything like support would have taken down a victory. As it was he pulled himself out of several bad holes single handed and went down fighting, proving that he has in his stomach a large consignment of the stuff that they call force of character in a man and stubbornness in a mule.

White as usual played a flawless game but Herwig, the heart from Butte, went through a few motions which were more suggestive of a bush-balling. Herwig does not cover left field as well as Deaton did, while Deaton, on the other hand is a lost sheep in a strange pasture over in right and if Gleason was a general he would change them around without delay. The Maroons themselves were intensely human in the respect that they did not fail to err. Sullivan got his first on errors twice and seemed to bear a charmed life all the way round the circuit. In fact Landeros played such a yellow game yesterday that he made a conspicuous picture of incapacity on the Maroon field.

The Maroons practically won the game in the fourth when Landeros hit, Bushelman rapped out a grounder which should have been a double, but which Gleason fumbled. Fitzgerald bunted, Yeazell cutting Landeros off at third, Harnahan got hit by pitcher, flied the bases. Piper hit, scoring two men and getting second himself, and a moment later Menace hit, scoring two more. Zeidler fouled out and Donovan failed to negotiate first.

In the fourth Voss hit, Landeros bunted, Bushelman struck out and with the side as good as dead Sullivan made a low throw to first on Fitzpatrick's gentle rap, which Mahaffey failed to pick up, allowing Voss to score.

In the seventh the Maroons again scored, Zeidler getting a single, Donovan bunting and Voss bringing Zeidler in.

Edmonton did their only scoring in the seventh. Adams flew to right and Sullivan got first on Landeros' error, Herwig following with a fly to centre and Hodge getting a hit on which Sullivan reached third. White followed!

with what might have been a hit or an error by right at the discretion of the official score-keeper, but it served to bring Sullivan in and advance Hodge to third. Hodge scored a moment later on a passed ball and Mahaffey struck out retiring the side.

In the ninth it looked like a rally for the Caps but with three on bases they failed to come through.

There was a short meeting of the cabinet today at which cabinet business was transacted. There were present Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Fielding, Patterson, Scott, Aylesworth, Brodeur and Lemieux.

Entire Block, Except Merchants' Bank, Wiped Out.—
Losses Estimated at Close to $100,000. --- Brave
Fight by Volunteer Fire Brigade. --- Embers
Still Smouldering While Preparations
Are Being Made to Rebuild.

The pretty little thriving town of Lacombe had a visitation by the destroying element of fire this morning which wiped out an entire block and caused losses totalling close to $100,000.

The principal losers are:
The Adelphi hotel $35,000
A. M. Campbell, general store 15,000
Titsworth Confectionery Co. 8,000
Morris & Johnston 7,000
Lacombe Drug Co. 6,000
Rose Drug Co. 5,000
John McKenry, Real Estate 2,000
Dr. Auger, dentist 3,000
Corbett & Drowry, law office unknown
Trimble & Poole, law office, unknown

The area swept by fire was the whole of the triangular block to the west of the Canadian Pacific Railway station and south of Main street. Only one building escaped, the Merchants bank, a three storey brick, situated on the corner where the fire brigade had access to two sides of it. It was only after a heroic fight, however, that the bank building was saved.

On the north side of the street the large stores of Burdick & Blair, Morris & Johnston were only saved after the hardest kind of a fight. As it was the whole store front of Burdick & Blair's establishment was scorched and blackened with the heat, the windows broken and the awnings burned off. A gentle northeast wind was blowing at the time, which while it fanned the devouring flames, saved the balance of the town.

The fire was first discovered at three o'clock this morning issuing from the roof of the implement shed occupied by Morris & Johnston. It was already a vicious blaze when first seen and although an alarm was sent in at once and the entire town turned out to fight the fire it was already beyond control, and it was impossible to save the block. Lacombe has a very fine fire equipment for a small town, consisting of a modern gasoline pump, hook and ladder outfit and chemicals and there was plenty of water accessible in deep wells close to hand, which enables the fire boys to put up a grand fight to save the balance of the town. Morris & Johnston's implement shed was situated about midway in the block and the fire spread east and west, working back to the street on the south side, clearing everything as it went. A heroic effort was made to save the goods and chattels from the burning building but so fierce was the fire that very little salvage was accomplished.

By 5 o'clock the fire had passed its worst stage and was under control but as the Bulletin goes to press the embers of the fire are still smoldering. Telephone communication was restored at 2 o'clock this afternoon and Lacombe citizens are receiving expressions of sympathy from friends in other cities along the line. Up to the present very little could be learned as to the amount of loss covered by insurance but latest advices from Lacombe state that while the ashes are still smoldering the principle losers are making preparations to rebuild.

Your employees tell you nothing but time for the salary you pay them.

The more work you can get from your employees, the less their time costs you—any business man knows that.

Every cent saved in time is pure profit.

If you can make your employees realize this, your balance sheets will show it at the end of the year.

When your heads of departments have a systematic record in black and white before them of what each man does, it will not take them long to realize which employees are making money for the firm and which are not.

You can bring about such a condition of affairs if you will let us show you that what we know is a fact.

Business Systems will so lessen the time consumed with the books that your office staff will have twice their present capacity.

Business Systems will point out to you the men who are making good in your factory—no guess work about it.

Business Systems will stop the leaks in the different departments and show you how losses can be turned into profits.

Your request will bring detailed information by return mail.

HOPE YET

Anyone who was at the board of trade meeting yesterday could not help being impressed with the fact that it is still true, there are a good many people who fancy they could run a newspaper a good deal better than those who are at it.

This time it was members of the city council who were complaining. It is scarcely to be wondered that a good many of them can hardly recognize their own performances when they see them in print. That they cannot think them true, however, is the basis of the city's hope for better things.

THE WEST OVERTAKING THE EAST

The Calgary Albertan estimates that in 1911 Western Canada will have more than one third the population of the Dominion, and that by 1916 more than one-half the people of Canada will reside west of the Great Lakes.

The population of Alberta is now estimated at about 180,000; that of Saskatchewan at 330,000; Manitoba 409,000 and British Columbia 250,000, making a total population west of the Lakes of 1,169,000, or something more than one sixth the entire population of Canada. The Superintendent of Immigration places the number of new comers for the present year at nearly 200,000. Should this pace be maintained for ten years there will be added during the decade 2,000,000 people by immigration alone to the population of Canada, by far the larger number of whom will settle on the west. The appearances are that the pace will be not only maintained, but increased and the Albertan's forecast appears at least within the bounds of reasonable possibility.

It must be remembered, however, that the proportion of the immigration which reaches Western Canada may be temporarily checked, though the number of immigrants making their homes here, will probably not be lessened for some time. For years there has been a movement from the eastern provinces to the west which has withdrawn thousands of workers from the farms and factories of the east. The places vacated by these men will doubtless be filled sooner or later by newcomers from beyond the seas and from the Republic to the south. This process will doubtless be slow, for the attraction of cheap land is greater even than the allurements of high wages, but it may postpone the time when the west shall outstrip the east in population. In any event, however, the delay will be brief, for the real Canada lies between the Great Lakes and the Pacific Ocean. Rapidly, but none the less surely the centre of population is shifting westward, and it is a matter not of speculation but of certainty and not of generations but of decades until it will reach the prairie.

ANOTHER WITNESS

Scarcely a month but some fugitive criminals, gathered in by the strong hand of the law bears and but convincing testimony that "The way of the transgressor is hard." Men guilty of all shades of crime have confessed that guilt and fear prey on the mind of the fleeing criminal until capture is welcomed and punishment brings a satisfying sense of requited justice.

Captured in Morocco this week, Stensland, the absconding Chicago banker, said he was glad he was no longer a wanderer on the face of the earth. "I did not know it would be so hard to be a fugitive," Stensland made no attempt to deny his guilt, and only tried to minimize it. He said, "I cannot understand how the shortage can be $2,000,000; to my certain knowledge my liability to the bank does not exceed $500,000. Anything over that must have been taken by Hering."

"My indebtedness began a long while ago, in 1896. It was a small affair, a small amount, and I never intended to steal. I was in a tight hole and needed money. I put my own note, genuine, not a forgery, in the box. Then it was suggested to me that the bank examiner would stand for it and he did."

"Who suggested it?"
"Hering, at the beginning, he pointed out a roundabout way at first that it was easy to obtain money that way. Then when my notes became too numerous he suggested the forgeries."
"And you acquiesced?"
"Yes. First he tempted, then he urged and I fell. Ever after I was absolutely in his power. He owned me, body and soul."
"How many of the forgeries did you do yourself?"
"Not one. Hering, I think, did all." Once again: "The way of the transgressor is hard."

JAPAN'S WHEAT CROP AND CANADIAN FLOUR

The news that the Japanese wheat crop for the year will amount to 98,000,000 bushels, or about the same as the wheat crop of the entire western part of Canada looks at first like a blow to the hopes of those who point to Japan as a coming market for Canadian flour. It is not so, however, for while wheat production is comparatively a new occupation in Japan the land there available for the purpose is limited while the demand for wheat food products is as certain to develop enormously. Large as is the amount of this year's Japanese crop it amounts to only about two bushels per head of the population.

Japan has approximately the same area and population as Great Britain, the greatest importer of wheat in the world, and the conditions are sufficiently similar to warrant the supposition that she will occupy a similar position in the commercial world. Great Britain is an industrial and commercial, rather than an agricultural nation, and owing to the land system large areas which might be devoted to agriculture are withheld from production as estates of the wealthy. The conditions in Japan are similar and despite the progress made in agriculture the progress in manufacturing and in trading have been even greater. The tendency of development is from agriculture to manufacturing industries and commerce and that the latter occupations already outstrip the former in Japan is evidence that they will do so still more largely in the future.

More than this there is wheat and wheat, and the history of agriculture has everywhere proven the superiority of wheat grown in cold countries as compared to that produced in milder climates. There is already in Japan a marked preference for Canadian flour over all other available and the development of the nation promises not only to increase the demand for wheat but to increase the preference for the best quality available. Canada's chances of permanently securing the market are therefore twofold—she can produce both the quantity and the quality.

CURRENT COMMENT

Elections are pending in Australia and according to the Sydney correspondent of the London Morning Post, Mr. Reid, the leader of the Opposition, is already very active. "No such flood of talk, continuous, expansive and vague," says the correspondent, "has been spread over such an area of country unless it be by Mr. Bryan in his Presidential contests throughout the United States of America." A kind of R. B. Bennett it would seem.

Commenting on Australian politics the Toronto News says: "There are therefore three parties and three leaders instead of two, and as a consequence, the country is likely to suffer from political confusion, unrest and uncertainty so long as no 'one of them is strong enough to control Parliament independently.' As the News is working theoretically for the destruction of partyism the assumption is that it desires for Canada an era of 'political confusion, unrest and uncertainty,' a condition in which no party would be 'strong enough to control Parliament independently,' and in which the doings of parliament would be confusing, turbulent and uncertain."

A significant sign is the attention British newspapers are at present paying to Canadian affairs. References in the British press to Canadian policy and Canada's doings are by no means new but never have they appeared so frequently as of late. While there is room for large improvements on both scores the news items have never attempted to represent so fully the progress of our affairs and taking them generally the comments and criticisms have never been governed by as full information or as sympathetic spirit. The change is suggestive of the change in Canada's status in the Empire and of how large this country now looms in the thought of the people of Great Britain.

WILL MAKE6,000,000 BRICK

This Is the Estimate of P. Anderson & Co. for the Present Season

"Our output this season so far has been about 3,000,000 bricks," said John Jackson, foreman for Peter Anderson & Co., to the Bulletin yesterday, "and we expect to make as many more this year before the season closes."

"The firm refused an order for 150,000 bricks last week because we cannot make them fast enough," was another remark of Mr. Jackson, that shows business going with a swing for the Peter Anderson company.

This firm which began business across the river about six years ago has been very successful and are doing their share to build up Edmonton. Almost the total production of brick has been used in Edmonton.

The output consists of three kinds of brick namely, the wire cut brick, the soft mud brick with the "frog," and the hard pressed brick used mostly for outside walls and face work.

The clay from which the bricks are manufactured is found in unlimited quantities in yards which are situated on the south bank of the Saskatchewan on the left hand side of the road from Edmonton to Strathcona immediately after crossing the E.Y. & P. steel bridge. The upper layer of the clay is sifted so as to get rid of the roots that it contains. It is then loaded in trucks and hoisted to the machine which thoroughly mixes it and pressed it out in the form of an oblong prism, 9 inches wide and 3 inches deep, and as the plastic mass is slowly pressed out 12 bricks are cut off at a time by means of wires attached to a lever at intervals of 4 inches thus giving the usual dimensions of a brick. The clay in Edmonton is well suited for brickmaking, as it is not what the workmen call "strong clay," but has the right admixture of calcareous and siliceous materials.

Pressed bricks are made from dry pulverized clay and brick bats. The pulverized material is screened and falls into a hopper where it is thoroughly mixed and then is passed down into a powerful steam press machine which compresses dry material into a brick which is then taken to the kiln and burned. P. Anderson & Co. have five kilns for burning pressed brick and are erecting two more at the present time. Three of the kilns have a capacity of 100,000 bricks each. This is the largest plant in Alberta that manufactures pressed brick.

The firm have employed about forty men throughout the season. Foreman Jackson said there was difficulty in obtaining a sufficient number of men to keep the plant working up to its capacity. The capacity of the plant is about 20,000 pressed bricks, and 40,000 common bricks per day. It is only the scarcity of labor that prevents the firm from expanding commensurate with the demands of the building trade.

Mr. Anderson has been a resident of Edmonton for many years. He began operations in a brickyard in the east end of the city, but removed to his present location several years ago, when the company was formed.

Strathcona and Edmonton Exhibits for Halifax Exhibition

Strathcona, Sept. 7.—Yesterday the province of Alberta exhibits were shipped east for the Dominion exhibition at Halifax.

Alberta is well represented at this exhibition, as exhibits were sent from Leduc, Stettin, Pincher Creek, Vegreville, Vermilion, Edmonton and Strathcona.

Without doubt the specimens which Edmonton and Strathcona have contributed, are of a very superior quality, and at Halifax these two towns' exhibits will receive a great deal of attention.

Previous to the shipping, the Great West Implement Co.'s warehouse in Edmonton was visited by a Bulletin representative, who was very kindly shown the exhibits prior to shipment.

The main feature was an exhibit of grasses and grains and some splendid specimens were secured. There was Preston wheat from the farm of Ed. C. Bel Fife wheat from W. Johnson, fall wheat from Wm. Lettister, Timothy from Thos. Daly; six-rowed barley from W. McCrae; two-rowed barley from W. Hawkins; Storm-King oats from Jas. Inkster and J. J. Duggan; elough grass from A. Johnson; second growth timothy from W. Lettister and flax from James Faugh.

The Storm-King oats from the farms of J. Inkster and J. J. Duggan, it is confidently expected, will at least realize 100 bushels to the acre. The oats and wheat sent in are especially good samples.

Mr. Forte has indeed, made an exceptionally first-class job of the Strathcona exhibits, and both as regards quality and appearance holds its own with any of the districts.

Mr. J. L. Forte is preparing the Strathcona exhibit for the New Westminster fair.

At the Christian Endeavor of Knox Presbyterian church on Monday evening, Mr. Colin McNulty will give a paper on "The Triumphs of Christianity."

BRITISH MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

Echoes of the Recent Gathering of Learned Doctors in Toronto

The British Medical Association which recently met in Toronto represents the highest autocracy of intellect in the world. No body of men ever came together with such unselfish aims and brought such trained minds to bear upon their work. They infinitely surpass the intellectual autocracy that Paul met at Mars Hill in Ancient Athens, who spent their whole time in attempting to find some new thing. They never found it. Likewise the noted scientists that gathered in Toronto the other day have spent their time in searching for something new, and they have found it. Every advance in medical science has meant the amelioration of pain and the saving of human lives, making the world happier for some unfortunate individual. What after all is the aim of civilized life but to make the world a better place to live in—to live in.

The British Medical Association was founded in 1832 in Worcester, England with a membership of 140 and today it has grown to include over 20,000. The recent meeting in Toronto is the second time that the association has met outside of the British Isles. The other occasion was in 1903 when the meeting was held in Cape Town, South Africa. The next annual meeting will be held in Exeter, England. Many of the delegates are on their way to the west, where they will discover more new things without the use of the microscope.

One of the most interesting papers given at the association was that of Prof. Chittenden of Yale. It is often said that more people die from over-eating than from starvation which seems to the average man something of a paradox. But Prof. Chittenden has gone a long way to establish it as a scientific fact which embodies the basis of a change of faith and a new practice. Too much food and too rich a diet means loss of vitality in disposing of it and entails the risk of poisons before the products of metabolism are got rid of. Chittenden has shown that the human subject can do with less than one-half the quantity of meat (or nitrogenous foods) than was formerly supposed which means less work for the liver and kidneys. His experiments which have been carried out upon soldiers in barracks, athletes, laborers and on himself proved there was no loss of vitality or power to do work. It is held that there is less tendency to rheumatism on a low nitrogenous diet. In this day there should be some boon for the legions of rheumatics which they are denied. Not so deadly as the white plague, rheumatism causes more pain and misery. The question of nutrition concerns every living being, and that mankind has much to learn in this respect is shown by the statement of eminent medical statisticians that 35 per cent. of all deaths is due to improper and unscientific feeding.

One of the most notable discussions of the delegates was upon the subject of sewage disposal and water supply. On this point Edmonton needs some light, like dozens of other cities in the Dominion. The practice of discharging sewage into streams was unconvincingly condemned. A great deal of the prevalent kidney disease was due to the pollution of water supply by sewage. The proper control of the area from which a city obtains its water supply is the first duty of any municipal administration. Dr. Starkey of McGill University gave some startling figures. He has been making observations upon the Ottawa and St. Lawrence for a series of years and has found these rivers are becoming polluted year by year. In the St. Lawrence he found 90 colonies of bacteria in 1903, and 108 colonies in 1906. The Ottawa is worse the colonies of bacteria have increased from 110 to 300 in three years, and between Montreal and Ottawa Dr. Starkey found 1,500 colonies of bacteria in the same river. Prof. Glaister of Glasgow University

RUSHING THE SHORT LINE

(Bulletin Special)
International Falls, Minn., Sept. 7.—Work on the extension of the Duluth, Rainy Lake and Winnipeg road from Ashawa north is being rapidly pushed. Hardly a whole mile of the right of way for the entire distance remains to be cut and grading is in progress along the whole line.

BRITISH IMMIGRATION IN CANADA

A correspondent writes the Yorkshire Post as follows regarding the treatment of British immigrants:—

"Sir: As one who has lived in the far North-west of Canada, I can endorse all that Mr. Trant says. I have seen the notice 'No Englishmen need apply' posted up in Winnipeg, in Brandon and in Calgary, but no one would argue from this that an Englishman has tabooed there. It is an undoubted fact that many natives of this country on arriving cut west to forget that Canada, though owing allegiance to the Union Jack, is inhabited by a people who care not for class distinctions, and that high-and-mighty manner usually termed 'snob.' They forget that Main street is not Piccadilly, that every Canadian considers himself his brother's equal. There was once a young Englishman, newly arrived, who rode up to a well known hotel not a hundred miles from Regina. He was clad in a gay striped shirt, with Rotten Row knickers, relieved by spurred boots of patent leather. 'Aw,' shouts he to the landlord, and this without dismounting 'a whiskey and sodaw.' 'A whiskey and sodaw, is it?' replies the landlord quietly. 'Yell take brandy' and he had to, but not before he had been knocked off his horse. This young man was the son of a highly placed Church dignitary in the North of England. Sad to relate, the lesson was lost on him, and the last heard of him was that he had been half killed by some Indiana for not recognizing the difference between meum and tuum. To him who is ready to work—not an eight hours day—and 'do as Rome does,' a living is always open. He may not make a fortune, but he surely will acquire a competence, and this coupled with the fact that his little bit of land is his own, is no mean goal for which to strive. Yours, etc."

MEN OF SOME DISTINCTION
Diversified Fabrics and Styles in the Season's Fashions.

The distinctive individuality in the Semi-Ready is lacking does not just happen. It is an achievement, a production which has been wrought by skill, system and experience.

Vital unity, equal strength in all the co-related parts, such as tailoring, designing, fabrics, and all minor details—in these Semi-Ready establishes its fifteen and twenty dollar suits high above the rest. Every element of Semi-Ready is governed by a standard that is far more exacting than the average tailor dreams of.

The series of Semi-Ready models for this season show conservative good taste and also include the radically new sack coat of three buttons and an almost straight front. The fabrics are diversified from the monotone greys, blues and blacks, to the more youthful and daring checks, stripes and mixtures which go as far as good taste permits. The physique type measurements insure a perfect fit for all manner of men, normal or abnormal in girth, chest or figure. Kelly & Moore, Agents.

Grain Commission Takes Evidence

(Winnipeg Free Press.)

Tuesday:—The grain commission met this morning. In the absence of Mr. Miller, chairman, Mr. McNair, president, the other members being both present.

The first witness sworn was A. P. Campbell of the firm of Campbell & McLean, commission merchants. He said: In my opinion there is not very much difference between the railroad men and the grain men generally about this becoming an order point, but some think the time is not opportune. I think the time is about opportune. I think Winnipeg and this western country have grown at such a rate that we Canadians, especially in the west require the best of everything and the most modern and best way of handling our grain. We know Minneapolis is a sample market and has been for some time. An order point was established there before it had as great a milling capacity as we have at present. I don't think we western people realize how our milling capacity has increased in the last two years. The present milling capacity near the end of this year I am told will have reached 16,000 or 17,000 barrels a day between Winnipeg and Fort William, including both. Ogilvie's 4,000 and 5,000; H.B. Co. mill about 500; Keewatin new mill 4,000, now running 3,000, which can be increased to 5,000; Maple Leaf Co., new building at Kenora, 2,000; Ogilvie mill Kenora, 3,000.

Making this an order point would not affect the present system, the market would be practically on the same basis as the old country market where all grain is sold on sample. The people of the Canadian west should be granted the same privilege for marketing grain as those of the east, of Minnesota and Dakota have. North Bay, Ont., has long been an order point; cars are sampled there and then sold on their merits. Winnipeg should be immensely more important, and should stand in the same relation to Canada as Minneapolis to Minnesota and Dakota. Winnipeg should be an order point because the milling capacity tributary to the city has reached such proportions as warrant the change; also because it is practically such now in a limited way, but for the future we should have mixing and sorting elevators here. It should be open and free to all, so that everyone who wishes can ship grain here for orders. If the change in price should be hardly noticeable, even if only a fraction of a cent, it would soon mean much to the country. It is not so much the quantity of grain shipped here that is important; it is the privilege to do so. The bulk of the grain and milling companies will ship as usual direct to Fort William; possibly not one-fourth would be shipped here for orders, and the railway companies would have little added burden, and the transportation of grain would be as rapid as at present. I feel sure it is something we will have in the near future any way.

Mr. McNair—Do you consider that the capacity of the mills has increased in proportion to the crop?

I think so; and that probably the increase is even greater.

Do you believe the privilege of shipping grain here for orders would increase the price?

It was hardly noticeable, but the great thing is for the people to have the privilege of doing just what they would like to do.

Mr. Goldie—What course would you pursue? All cars must now go under inspection by Mr. Horn; would he sample these cars that were to be sold?

I don't think there is any part of the world where the handling of grain comes under the judgment of one man where it is done so satisfactorily as here. A car to be sold on sample would be shipped in their usual way. Mr. Horn, in addition to grading that car and giving a certificate for it, would also give the dealer a sample.

Mr. McNair—You do not consider the elevators here a detriment, do you?

No. I would like every one to have every possible privilege.

Mr. Goldie—If grain should come in here under government certificate and should be again sold on sample, what disposition would be made of it in the east?

The purchaser could arrange with his own elevator, or some other, to have a special bin. Suppose 200 cars arrive here today. 25 of which are shipped for orders. There would be a government certificate and a sample of each car. Suppose all graded No. 1 northern, no two would be exactly alike, the man who had the best would get the best price; in other words it would be sold, as in the old country, exactly on its merits.

How would Mr. Horn keep up the grade if the best cars are picked out?

The lowest grade Mr. Horn gives is supposed to be up to the government standard, and the difference would be very slight.

Mr. Goldie—There must be a difference between good 1 northern and minimum 1 northern; if the best is picked out it will have a tendency to reduce our grade practically one cent.

Geo. J. Bury, general superintendent, C.P.R., figured that on the average there are 77 days in which the wheat crop has to reach the lake front before navigation closes. It is the railway company's duty to take out the largest possible amount of the crop. It costs the farmer 66 per cent. of his crop to raise it, and the railway tries to get that amount out before navigation closes. Nothing should be done to hamper that movement. If a sample market were established in Winnipeg, it would practically mean that all cars would be delayed at least two days. Suppose a car came in on Saturday at noon. The grain exchange is closed on Saturday afternoon, and would not be able to deal with samples until Monday. The car would have to be switched out. Suppose there were 500 cars, and 50 had to be switched out, there might be the two cars on every track. The company has spent a million dollars to build terminals to handle the traffic, and he thought it able to handle the business without great difficulty at present; but if cars had to be held there for an average of two days and reswitched, it would mean that the company would have to put in a special grain yard. It would be impracticable to do that work with the present terminals. As to the sample market in Minneapolis, nearly all the wheat going in is disposed of there; while there would be little wheat disposed of by sample in Winnipeg. The sample market at North Bay delays cars there an average of ten days. The cars come in, samples are drawn and shipped to Toronto, and the grain is then sold on those samples to the different mills in Ontario, but cannot be exported on sample. Eighty per cent. of the cars coming into North Bay are billed on order, and sold on sample.

Regarding Mr. Bury's statement that it would be necessary to hold all cars two days if a sample market was established, Mr. Roblin stated that he considered that 24 hours would be sufficient. This concluded Mr. Roblin's evidence.

Mr. Roblin deplored the shipping of the grain at such a rapid rate, as it suddenly increased the visible supply. The buyers in Europe think there is a large quantity of wheat here simply to be tapped, and they shove down the prices.

Our conditions for a sample market are much more favorable than Minneapolis, as everything from the west has to go through Winnipeg. I think if we had this market that it would increase the milling capacity of the city, as it is greatly to the advantage to manufacture everything possible rather than ship in the raw state. This would apply in the matter of barley particularly. If the malting barley could be culled out here, a better price would be realized than if it was shipped east and mixed the producer would have to accept fees.

Regarding Mr. Bury's statement that it would be necessary to hold all cars two days if a sample market was established, Mr. Roblin stated that he considered that 24 hours would be sufficient. This concluded Mr. Roblin's evidence.

Notwithstanding we have 121 miles of track in the Winnipeg terminals, and the largest single yard in the world, we would be unable to handle the present wheat crop if required to hold cars here for sample. It would be necessary to build a separate grain yard, the same as American roads have done.

Mr. McNair spoke of the shipping of barley, saying that the brewers do get chances to buy barley here as the shipper has to ship through or be a loser of one cent per hundred.

The witness denied that there had been any blockade, saying that there was not a single day last year when there was not an elevator always open.

Mr. McNair held that where competition was shut off there was practically a blockade. A farmer might be able to dispose of his grain but the price was increased.

To a question whether the delay that would be caused by delaying cars for samples would make a blockade more probable, Mr. Bury answered that he would not admit there was any likelihood of a blockade.

Would there be one-fourth of the cars shipped here for further orders?

It would be hard to say. In Minneapolis I was told that nearly all the cars are shipped there for further orders.

Hon. R. P. Roblin said I am of opinion that Winnipeg as an order point which would of course provide facilities for a sample market, would be of a most material financial advantage to the producers of the country. I make that statement on the evidence that is found in places where an order point or sample market exists. Minneapolis, for instance, is an order point, and a sample market is found there, and the daily record will show a difference of one to three cents in prices for cars of 1 northern samples bought by millers or by owners of private elevators. Another advantage of a sample market is where there are off cars. A car that goes rejected for wild oats, or cockle, or some other foreign grain or noxious weed is sold on its merits to the miller or private elevator company. These can pay more, and will pay more than a buyer can where grain is thrown into a general bin, and the producer in that way gets the full value of his grain. Another reason why it would be specially advantageous to Winnipeg, and the time if not now opportune, must be soon, for taking this step is that there would be a yearly consumption here of some 20,000,000 bushels of wheat, and the millers will necessarily be buyers on sample.

To Mr. McNair—The cleaning and mixing of wheat in Winnipeg would be an advantage to the producer as a grade which was too dirty for say a 1 northern and a very high grade of 2 northern; by a little extra cleaning the producer could gain 3 cents a bushel.

By having a sample market we could obviate the lower prices of 5 or 6 cents per bushel for tough or wet grain. These are a few of the reasons why I should endorse an order point and sample market.

Mr. Bury recalled stated that the Sunday legislation has no effect on the movement of grain, as the cars are billed through, and no stop is made on Sunday for these.

Mr. Roblin, continuing, stated that the establishment of a sample market and order point would delay the transmission of cars to the farmers. There should be a reasonable compensation for the railroads if such a course was adopted.

Mr. Roblin deplored the shipping of the grain at such a rapid rate, as it suddenly increased the visible supply. The buyers in Europe think there is a large quantity of wheat here simply to be tapped, and they shove down the prices.

Our conditions for a sample market are much more favorable than Minneapolis, as everything from the west has to go through Winnipeg. I think if we had this market that it would increase the milling capacity of the city, as it is greatly to the advantage to manufacture everything possible rather than ship in the raw state. This would apply in the matter of barley particularly. If the malting barley could be culled out here, a better price would be realized than if it was shipped east and mixed the producer would have to accept fees.

Regarding Mr. Bury's statement that it would be necessary to hold all cars two days if a sample market was established, Mr. Roblin stated that he considered that 24 hours would be sufficient. This concluded Mr. Roblin's evidence.

McWITHEY-BASSETT

Strathcona, Sept. 6.—Yesterday afternoon a very pretty wedding was solemnized in Holy Trinity church, Strathcona, when two highly respected and well-known citizens were united in matrimony—viz—Mr. John S. McWithey and Miss Lily E. Bassett.

As the hour of the ceremony arrived the church was crowded by friends, and to the strains of the wedding march played by Mr. Arthur Pierson, the bride arrived leaning on the arm of her brother, Mr. Fred Bassett and the nuptials were performed by Rev. W. R. George. The bridesmaid was Miss Jeannette Fisher, while Mr. John A. Forsythe acted as groomsmen. Carrying a shower bouquet of white carnations, the bride looked extremely pretty in cream crepe de chene over tulle and all trimmed with chiffon, all over lace, and a lace girdle of white duchess ribbon, while her travelling costume was a pearl gray dress and a picture hat. The bridesmaid was charmingly attired in Persian lawn with valenciennes and insertion.

After the ceremony the guests returned to the home of the bride where a sumptuous wedding repast was served. The bride was the recipient of a large number of valuable presents.

The happy couple left during the evening via C. N. R. express, and intend to spend a month's honeymoon in Wisconsin.

WEEKS-GORDON

A very pretty wedding was celebrated Wednesday morning, Aug. 29, at 4:30 at the home of Mrs. (Dr.) Gordon. Grand Valley, says the Woodstock Sentinel-Review, when her daughter, Lillian Frances was married to William Weeks, of Strathcona, Alberta. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. D. Richardson, M. A. brother-in-law of the bride, assisted by Rev. W. S. Daniels, B.A., B.D., pastor of the Methodist church, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the bride's family. The bride who was given away by her brother-in-law, J. W. Graydon, was dressed in cream silk gown with dainty trimmings of

Held First Convention in Banff This Week

The Alberta Medical Association met at Banff on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, and had a very successful gathering in point of attendance and in the excellent papers given by some of the delegates.

Tuesday forenoon was taken up with routine business. In the afternoon the association gave their attention to framing and adopting the constitution by-laws of the new association. The afternoon session was concluded by the address of the president Dr. Brett of Banff.

Doctor Learmonth of High River gave a very instructive paper which was thoroughly appreciated and provoked a splendid discussion.

Dr. Whitlaw of Edmonton gave a paper with full explanation and specimens of a rare case of injury to the spinal cord causing paralysis and death. Another case which aroused intense interest was presented by Dr. Aitken of Bankhead. It was a peculiar example of hip disease of a young boy presented diagnosis and discussion. The diagnosis will be confirmed by X-ray examination and the treatment suggested.

Dr. Clendenen, provincial health inspector, addressed the convention and went fully into the means and plans for the prevention of tuberculosis. The address was an elaborate and exhaustive treatment of the important subject.

The officers which were elected when the association was formed last spring will continue in office until the next annual meeting in 1937. They are as follows:—Hon. Pres. Dr. Kennedy, Macleod; Pres. Dr. Brett, Banff; 1st vice-president, Dr. Braithwaite, Edmonton; 2nd vice-president, Dr. Newburn, Lethbridge; 3rd vice-president, Dr. Lafferty, Calgary; Sec.-Treas., Gordon Cummings, Calgary.

The delegates are unanimous in expressing their appreciation of the kind manner and good nature which Dr. Brett, the president showed towards the delegates.

The next meeting of the association will be in Edmonton, probably in October 1937.

valenciennes lace and insertion. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful gold watch and chain and to her twin sister, Miss Ethel, who played the wedding march, a gold locket and chain. After the daily breakfast was partaken of Mr. and Mrs. Weeks left on an extended tour to Detroit, Buffalo, Niagara Falls and other points. For going away the bride wore a tailored suit of navy blue broadcloth with cream silk blouse and cream hat. After returning to Grand Valley they will leave October 1st for Strathcona, Alberta, their future home.

A MUNICIPAL FARCE

One of the most important positions which the aldermen are called upon to fill is that of a commissioner.

I learn from one of the applicants, when making his personal canvass for the position that some of the aldermen have promised their support to certain candidates without considering what applications are in for the position. If this is the case what is the use of making a municipal farce of the position by advertising for candidates and receiving their applications in good faith when members of the council have promised their support to particular friends. Such tactics will discourage and prevent competent men from applying for any of our civic positions for skilled men do not like to be placed in such a humiliating circumstance as probably to not receive one vote for the appointment. I think the ratepayers of Edmonton should resent such methods of the aldermen and if they persist in pledging themselves to their friends let such aldermen be left at home next year. What the city wants is a good capable commissioner not the political hack with "a pull" who is always so essential about election time.

Yards

Strathcona, Sept. 7.—The citizens of Strathcona have been eagerly and confidently looking forward to the erection and completion of C.P.R. engine house at an early date. It is learned now, however, from a reliable source that the ground given over by Strathcona town council to the company will not be used this fall, but will be left in all probability be started early next spring, when it is anticipated that the sum of $125,000 will be expended besides the outlay on the new C.P.R. bridge and its approaches.
